

Central Sailing Center Trzebież

The marina is in the north-eastern part of the town, next to the Central Sailing Center. Accessible by car or local public transport.

For many years the most important and highly valued sailing center in the country. The Szczecin - Świnoujście fairway runs in Trzebież. The marina consists of two basins separated by a T-shaped concrete pier. Concrete quays are equipped with energy and water. Trzebież has two approach tracks - from the north and south. Both are marked with buoys, and additionally, leading tips make sailing easier. Sailors should stay on the course - deviation from their course may cause running aground. You can use a crane in the port. It is a good place to put up or lay a mast for those sailing on the Berlin - Szczecin - Baltic route. There is a hostel with 50 beds in the marina. The center conducts sailing and maneuvering training on sea yachts. The Central Sailing Center is the owner of several maritime units, incl. the sailing ship "Kapitan Głowacki". At the marina there are: toilets, internet, electricity, a parking, a campsite, and charters.
