

Arsenał [The Arsenal]

Stargard Szczeciński

The Arsenal is located in the Old Town behind the Stargardinum College. Entrance to Basztowa Street is possible at the junction of Kazimierza Wielkiego Street and Krzywoustego Street. The nearest bus stop is on Krzywoustego Street.

The Arsenal is a unique building, the only such building preserved in Pomerania. It was erected at the turn of the 14th and 15th centuries, on a 12,32 x 16,52-m rectangle plan. This two-storey, masonry building is covered with a pitched roof. Its walls are decorated with rhombus stripes– an interesting pattern from ceramic bricks. There are also small windows, which had been laid out in an irregular way, and on the second floor there are six semi-spherical windows.

The arsenal also referred to as armoury, was used for storing battle equipment, for manufacturing and fixing weapons, and for storing the lightweight and heavyweight fighting equipment.

The building had been rebuilt and modernised many
